Chapter 1 Persuading with Numbers:

The Role Of Quantitative Information In Technical Writing	1
Introduction	2
What Is Technical Writing?	3
What Is Rhetoric?	5
The Rhetoric of Quantitative Information	7
What Are Quantitative Literacy and Reasoning?	8
Defining Quantitative Literacy	8
Defining Quantitative Reasoning	9
The Role of Quantitative Literacy in Technical Writing	11
Real Life Scenarios	12
Current Employment	12
Future Careers	12
Quantitative Literacy Supports Effective Technical Writing	13
Conclusion	15
Reading Check Questions	16
Reflection Exercises	17
Further Reading	17

Chapter 2 Reading:

Understanding and Evaluating Quantitative Information	19
Introduction	20
Quantitative Literacy as Product	21
Quantitative Literacy as Process	23
Skills for Reading Quantitative Information Critically	25
Developing a Fact Sheet	26
Writing Skills: Description and Interpretation	26
Rhetorical Skills in Action:
An Exercise in Active Reading of Quantitative Information	28
Description	28
Interpretation	28
Summary	30
Paraphrase	30
Words for Interpreting Data	30
Three Major Misunderstandings to Interpreting Quantitative Information	35
Selective Reporting, or Omission	36
Creative Reporting, or Manipulation	37
Emotional Reporting, or Exaggeration	38

Conclusion	39
Reading Check Questions	40
Further Reading	41
Statistical Resources for Creating Fact Sheets	42
Appendix A: Sample Student Infographic	43

Chapter 3: Researching:

Creating Research Questions that Require Data	45
Introduction	46
Quantitative Information: Research as Investigation	48
Quantitative Information for Personal Decisions	49
Quantitative Information for Professional Contexts	50
Quantitative Information for Academic Contexts	50
Differences between Quantitative and Qualitative Information	51
Developing Research Questions That Require Quantitative Information	53
Developing a Research Question or Hypothesis	56
Steps for Developing a Research Question	57
Developing a Research Proposal	58
Deciding When Students Need Qualitative and/or Quantitative Data	62
Conclusion	63
Reading Check Questions	63
Resources	64
Further Reading	64
Appendix A: Sample Student Research Proposal	66

Spotlight: Association Is Not Cause-Effect	85
Designing Surveys	86
Writing Clear, Valid Survey Questions	87
Sampling and Response Rate	87
Survey Design and Margin of Error	90
Types of Questions Used in a Survey	91

Types of Information Gathered from Surveys .....	92
Strategies for Integrating Quantitative Information in Reports .....	94
Aristotelian Artistic Appeals .....	95
Writing Accurate, Specific Sentences That Include Quantitative Information .....	96
Conclusion .....	99
Reading Check Questions .....	99
Further Reading .....	101
Appendix A: Student Description of Her Research Process .....	103
Appendix B: Student Experience on Creating Surveys .....	107
Appendix C: Sample Student’s Research Summary and Progress Report .....	110
Appendix D: Coding: Converting Qualitative Data (Interviews) to Quantitative .....	114
Appendix E: Sample Student’s Recommendation Report Where Interviews Were Converted to Quantitative Data .....	118
Chapter 5 Visualizing:
Representing Quantitative Information Effectively and Persuasively .....	127
Introduction .....	128
Visual or Graphic Displays of Quantitative Information .....	129
Explanatory Graphics .....	130
Exploratory Graphics .....	131
Reasons for Using Visual Displays .....	133
Processing Power of the Brain .....	133
Visual Tools for Generating Schema and Patterns .....	134
Meaning-Making Power of Visuals .....	135
Important Information to Communicate Visually .....	135
Spotlight: Decontextualized Data Visualization .....	136
Spotlight: Three Contexts for Comparison of Data .....	141
Types of Visual Representations for Conveying Quantitative Data .....	142
Showing Relationships in Data .....	143
Comparing Among Items or Over Time .....	144
Displaying Distribution of Data .....	145
Highlighting Components of Data That Form a Composition .....	145
Deciding on the Type of Visual Display for Audience and Purpose .....	146
Describing the Visual Display in a Brief Narrative .....	146
Not Prioritizing Aesthetics in Visual Displays .....	148
Conclusion .....	151
Reading Check Questions .....	152
Further Reading .....	153
